

Speaker Biographies

Michael Hash is acting administrator of the Health Care Financing Administration. Previously, he was a principal with Health Policy Alternatives and senior staff associate for the House Subcommittee on Health and the Environment. Mr. Hash is a graduate of Washington and Lee University with postgraduate studies in political science at Vanderbilt University.

Stephanie Maxwell is a senior research associate in the Urban Institute's Health Policy Center. Before joining the Institute, Dr. Maxwell analyzed Medicare policy issues and conducted related research as a senior analyst at the Medicare Payment Advisory Commission. She is a graduate of the Johns Hopkins University School of Public Health.

Marilyn Moon is a senior fellow at the Urban Institute. She is an economist with interests in health, income security, and public policy. Dr. Moon is a former public trustee of the Medicare and Social Security trust funds. She is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin.

John Rother is director of legislation and public policy for AARP. Previously, he served as staff director for the Senate Aging Committee. Mr. Rother is a graduate of Oberlin College and the University of Pennsylvania Law School.