

Jeffrey S. Crowley, M.P.H.

Jeffrey S. Crowley is a Senior Research Scholar at Georgetown University's Health Policy Institute. Mr. Crowley has more than ten years experience conducting policy research related to people living with HIV/AIDS and other people with disabilities. Before joining the Health Policy Institute in October 2000, Mr. Crowley served as the Deputy Executive Director for Programs at the National Association of People with AIDS (NAPWA), overseeing the organization's public education, community development, and training activities. Mr. Crowley earned a Master of Public Health degree from the Johns Hopkins University and a Bachelor of Arts degree in chemistry from Kalamazoo College. He is also a returned Peace Corps Volunteer, having served as a high school science teacher in Nhlngano, Swaziland from 1989-1991.