

Richard A. Levy, PhD
President, Levy Consulting

Richard Levy has spent over thirty years teaching and conducting research in universities and private industry. As President of Levy Consulting, he develops and communicates research reports on pharmaceutical policy issues for legislators, advocacy groups, health policy makers, and clinicians. His current interests include: the impact of pharmaceutical policies on treatment outcomes and innovation; factors influencing adherence to therapy; disparities in treatment of vulnerable populations; and personalized medicine. He has authored over 90 publications in pharmacology and public policy.

Dr. Levy has served as Vice President for Scientific Affairs at the National Pharmaceutical Council, an association of research-based pharmaceutical companies. He has previously taught and conducted research in neuropharmacology at the University of Illinois College of Medicine. Dr. Levy received his B.S. at the City College of New York, and a PhD from the University of Delaware.